

BOY SHOTS SELF BECAUSE HE IS A FAILURE AND LAZY

Morris B. Weiss, 18 Years Old,
Commits Suicide in Philadelphia.

Because he believed he was "a failure and a lazy," Morris B. Weiss, son of Henry Weiss of No. 530 West One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, wrote a farewell letter to his mother, confessing these faults, then shot himself early today in front of a business house in Philadelphia.

The young man, who was only eighteen years old, was a shoe salesman in New York, though not employed by his father, who is interested in a shoe firm at No. 78 Reads street. He was in Philadelphia on a business trip.

A policeman based the report of the revolver and found young Weiss lying dead with a bullet hole through his temple. In his pocket was a memorandum book, upon a leaf of which was written, "My name is Morris B. Weiss, I live at No. 530 West One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, New York. Notify my father, Henry Weiss, at the same address, before 8 A. M. and after 8 P. M. or between those hours at No. 78 Reads street, Metropolitan Shoe Company."

The young man registered at a Philadelphia hotel yesterday, so the police discovered. In his room they found many scraps of torn letters. One scrap read:

"Dearest May: I love Agnes McCauley, No. 600 Lancaster avenue."

The address given is in Philadelphia. Later Miss McCauley told the police that she knew Weiss only casually. She had met him two years ago, but had not seen him since last October.

By piecing together other scraps of paper the police managed to decipher a letter which had been addressed to the suicide's mother. This was of some length and in it the boy had made his confession of failure. He asked the forgiveness of his parents for what he was about to do and closed the letter by saying that his father had been good to him, but should learn to control his temper.

The boy's father was informed of the suicide early today and hurried to Philadelphia.

An elder brother of Morris Weiss, who is employed in the shoe company of which the father is president, said after his father's departure that there had been a recent bitter quarrel between father and son. The younger man had worked for his father until ten days ago and then because of a violent dispute at the breakfast table young Weiss told his father he was going to get employment elsewhere. Since that time, the elder brother said, there had been a coolness between father and son.

The brother of the suicide said he had never heard of Morris's love affair with Miss McCauley nor with "May." He did not believe any serious love affair had prompted the suicide.

Old Railroad Man Dead.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 18.—Franklin Hinchey, who was chief land and tax agent for the New York Central for fifty years, is dead at his home in Gates, N. Y. He personally purchased most of the right of way for the four-tracked road between Buffalo and Albany in 1872. He retired in 1909 and was eighty-three years old.

GRAND JURY PROBES SALE OF THE STOCK IN SATIRE CONCERN

Prominent Men Called to Tell How Company Was Misrepresented to Them.

The additional Grand Jury, of which Meyer Stern is foreman, continued its investigation today of the methods by which stock in the Pulitzer Publishing Co., a concern which issues a magazine called Satire, was sold to prominent business men. Solicitors who approached business men with the stock alleged that the World family of Publishers was interested in the publication.

As a matter of fact, the Satire magazine is an enterprise promoted by Walter Pulitzer, who took for his concern the corporate name of the company which publishes the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. The World family of Publishers has nothing to do with the Satire magazine.

The witnesses heard today by the Grand Jury were Ralph Pulitzer, of The World; former Controller Herman A. Meix, who paid $100 for one share of Satire stock, and Stuyvesant Fish, who bought ten shares of $100 a share. Assistant District Attorney W. D. Emery, who is conducting the investigation for the Grand Jury, was instructed by that body to subpoena other witnesses.

BOGUS ALDERMAN AND PAL CONVICTED.

Pair Believed to Have Swindled
Merchants for Years Out of Thousands.

John Burns of No. 106 Wyckoff street, Brooklyn, and James Nolan of No. 332 Pearl street, Manhattan, said to be members of a gang that for years has obtained money by representing themselves to be city officials, were convicted in the Court of Special Sessions today.

Edward Iwison swore the pair visited his store, No. 14 East Seventeenth street, March 27. One said he was Alderman of the ward and the other the Tammany district leader. They were selling tickets, they said, for a ball, the proceeds to be given to the poor of the district. They had a long list containing the names of merchants and various amounts.

Delish gave them $5, but became suspicious and notified the police. They had a large roll of bills.

After the two men had been convicted, Thomas P. Smith, Secretary of Tammany Hall, told the Justices that for five years a gang had swindled merchants out of thousands of dollars, defying Tammany's efforts to stop the practice.

DARROW PUT ON TRIAL AS A JURY BRIBER.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 18.—Clarence R. Darrow, chief counsel for the McNamara brothers, in the dynamiting case, and one of the most widely known criminal lawyers in the United States, was placed on trial before Judge George Hutton in the Superior Court today, under an indictment charging him with having attempted to bribe a juror in the McNamara trial.

Darrow said he was ready for trial and that he was innocent of any wrong doing. He is being defended by Earl Rogers, former judge Cyrus McNamara, who was the brother of the McNamara brothers, and by himself. The prosecution is in charge of District Attorney John D. Frederick, who conducted the McNamara prosecution.

The evidence against Darrow was as strong as it was against the McNamara brothers, said Mr. Frederick today. Among the witnesses to be called, attorneys for the prosecution declared, would be Mrs. Otis E. McManigal, wife of the star witness in the McNamara case, who was willing to come from Chicago. Mrs. McManigal cannot be compelled to come here and testify.

For years you have yearned for a piano, to see it cozily settled in the corner of your parlor, to show it to your visitors and friends, and to hear right in your own home, the music you love so well.

A Comfort-Giving Corset which Moulds the Figure into Good Lines

—the Parisienne. It is made by a skilled corsetiere, who realizes that beauty of line and comfort may go hand in hand to make a woman not only look—but feel—her best.

There is great diversity of Parisienne models. At $7, a model designed on the most advanced fashion gives the straight "uncorseted" effect. It is long over the hips and low in the bust. Of fine French coutil, with the elastic set in at the front. As in all these models, the top is attractively finished.

Another $7 model, although having good lines, is essentially built for comfort. It is soft and flexible, bending with the body, sustaining it without binding. Of coutil, with moderately long hips. Older women especially appreciate it.

At $12, a favored Parisienne, with a longer hip and low bust. It is a soft light corset of silk figured batiste, which is especially adapted for Summer wear under lingerie and linen frocks.

At $15, a model of silk batiste, with elastic gusset in the front. This again has the extremely long hip which moulds the figures without discomfort.

At $20, elastic corset, made for riding, golf or out-of-door sports. It gives with the least movement and yet retains its original shape. Ventilated, light in weight, few bones, long over the hips—an ideal corset for the woman who desires grace and comfort when exercising.

A VALUABLE SUGGESTION IMPORTANT TO EVERY ONE

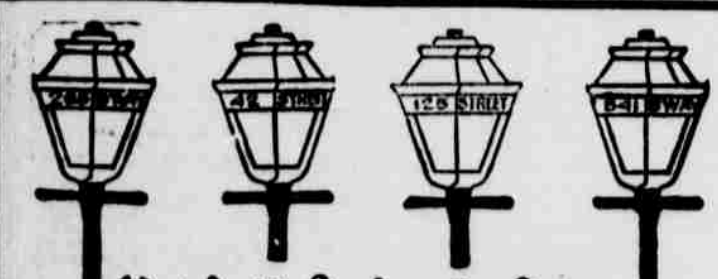

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood.

During the months when we live an indoor life the kidneys should receive some assistance when needed, as we take less exercise, drink less water and often eat more rich food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than Nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, inability to hold urine, smarting or burning, brick-dust or sediment, yellow complexion, rheumatism, maybe weak or irregular heart action, warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

An herbal medicine containing no mineral or opiate has the most healing influence. An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by mail, absolutely free. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and mention the New York Evening World.
